Dear Sensei,

May I introduce you my brother, Sanan Silapabanleng and his wife. They are invited by an advertising company to visit Japan for about a week. My brother is a musician and also a radio play producer, his wife is a graduate from Sil - pakorn. They both are good artists and very interested in art, music and dance. Ofcourse, they would like to see as much as possible of cultures in your country. And I feel I couldn't do better than to refer you to them. Therefore, I would be very grateful to you for whatever you could do to make their stay as profitable as possible, and I have no doubt that you would kindly extend to them your usual hospitality and warm courtesies while they are at yours.

I trust you, Oku San and children and your students are all doing very well. Ladda, myself and all members of my family are very well too, and my son got married a few days ago in London, my daughter is graduating from college in Ohio next week and she will be touring Europe before coming back home in July.

Best wishes and kindest regards, I am
